

The role of civil society organizations in promoting national unity

The civil society conference' preparatory committee with the cooperation of IAA held talks in the 24th of March 2007 at ALRASHEED hotel, aiming to promoting civil society participation in the national unity and decision making, building common grounds for reconstructing Iraq, s the political decisions assumptions, promoting civil dialogue culture among different slices of society, cooperating to rebuild the new Iraq on basis of tolerance, national commitments to eliminating all kinds of violence. 100 representatives from the government, parliament and official institutes along with civil society people attended the conference.

Participants discussed the following:

- Citizenship and rule of law and justice.
- Constitution reforms regarding international conventions on human right and article No.41 on personal status law.
- Relation between government and civil society people.
- The role of civil society organization in promoting dialogue and social coexist.

March 25th, 2007

