

August 20th 2007

Iraqi Al-Amal Association recent update on websites:

1. www.iraqi-alamal.org, the official website of the association that was launched nearly ten years ago, has been updated now and launched back with new outlook and topics, including six major topics on activities and projects on: Education, Health, Gender, Advocacy, youth, and human rights, the website is supported by two languages: Arabic and English, where via the website, correspondence can address IAA, the IAA is an Iraqi NGO established in 1992, non profitable, non sectarian, and non political, with volunteer workers, for the benefit of Iraqis, regardless of gender, ethnicity, sect, and political affiliation, to implement development and awareness projects nationwide.

2. On the same category, the Iraqi Al-Amal Association have recently recommenced launch of updated Alamal youth website: www.shabab-alamal.com, which has been since its first launch in May 2006, a successful and interactive forum for Iraqi youth dialogues, offering a substitute space for Iraqi youth under difficult security constraints to exchange thoughts, culture and ideas with each other, through the website divisions: youth civil dialogue, conflict resolution, arts and cultural pages, etc, the forum bases its main activities on direct debates amongst Iraqi youth on their main concerns: security, Internal displacement and immigration, unemployment, and citizenship,

